

A1C Partners, LLC delivers advisory services, intelligence analysis, and lifecycle program management support for mission critical federal programs operating at the intersection of law enforcement and intelligence.

CORE COMPETENCIES

Open Source Intelligence Analysis

As the U.S. Government (USG) wrestles with the challenge of utilizing Publicly Available Information (i.e. "Open Source Intelligence" or "OSINT") in a manner that advances our national security and law enforcement capabilities, while remaining true to our nation's guiding laws and privacy expectations, A1C Partners provides the USG with a team of experienced advisers capable of navigating the changing laws and policies that guide this space as well as experienced analysts well-versed in the technical practices of Publicly Available Information research, collection, and analysis.

Program & Project Management

A1C Partners brings the best mix of Program and Project Management experience and training to our clients. Our consultants are certified by the Project Management Institute (PMI) as Project Management Professionals (PMPs), however, we know that a certification alone does not mean good program execution. Our consultants have real-world experience managing federal government programs and have faced the challenges necessary to understand how to individually tailor the PMI processes and tools to each unique project and organization.

Strategic Planning & Management

A1C Partners has developed processes and solutions that enable government agencies to treat their IT systems as investments rather than as purchases. Our domain expertise in a variety of mission areas makes A1C Partners uniquely qualified to guide our clients in the strategic planning process so that they may achieve their short, mid-, and long-term goals. In a challenged federal budget environment, our consultants work with clients to prioritize projects that will show the highest return on investment and will leverage existing investments to avoid unnecessary increases in O&M costs.

Policy Planning, Development, & Execution

Policy is often the foundation of government programs. A1C Partners interacts with all levels of agency personnel and senior leadership to provide vision and support while maintaining a focus on mission-driven priorities. Our team has a demonstrated ability to research and develop guidelines and/or policy requiring coordination between agency components or outside entities (i.e. local, state, tribal, federal, international). We regularly handle correspondence, recommendations, or executive-level briefing material regarding topics that may garner Congressional interest.

Corporate Experience

Our History.

Since our founding in 2007, A1C Partners has been a trusted partner to the U.S. Government's top federal law enforcement agencies as a provider of intelligence collection and analysis, lifecycle program management, and strategic & policy planning services. Our clients exist at the nexus of law enforcement and intelligence and our team of experts sit beside our customers directly supporting their mission. Our team of analysts are experts in identifying, collecting, and synthesizing open source, publicly available, and proprietary or secure data. Our technologists are considered thought leaders in emerging data-centric technology and tools. Our PMP-certified program managers and strategists lead the programs we support with mission success prioritized. Our policy experts work alongside our clients ensuring the critical national security programs we support are executed in compliance with all applicable legal, statutory, and departmental policies.
